What's Happening to Our Country and Our Rights?

by

Robin Koerner

[date, 7:00 - 9:00 pm, place]

Admission / fee: [contact us]

Topics:

- Why are Americans so rich, and yet feel so poor?
- What caused the current economic crisis, and what was the role of government?
- Why has so much wealth been transferred to the government, and what have they done with it all?
- What will happen to the fast-growing mountain of government debt?
- Why do we allow the government to saddle babies not yet born with $100k of debt each?
- What are some simple, basic guidelines for understanding economics?
- Why do we have so many unconstitutional laws?
- Why are our rights in such jeopardy?
- Why don't our political leaders level with us?
- Whose interests do the politicians really serve?
- How can we reclaim the Land of the Free?

With the dispassion of an outsider, but the passion of an American patriot, Robin entertains as he explains what has been done to American citizens and what they can do to put America back on track.

Originally from England, Robin worked for a large consulting firm as a business analyst, and founded a real estate investment company.

Robin now lives in the Phoenix area, where he is a teacher with the Language of Liberty Institute, and founder and president of Watching America (www.watchingamerica.com).

He has delivered workshops and lectures internationally on Austrian economics, classical liberal philosophy, and the exercise of personal liberty. He recently returned from speaking and teaching engagements in Poland and Kyrgyzstan.
